NOVUS SKY: FAWO develops mounting solutions for TVs and tablet PCs with the office technology manufacturer Novus

In the area of mounting technology, the company has been cooperating with the office technology specialists, Novus, since 2008. Based on their respective area of expertise, both partners develop revolutionary mounting solutions for TVs and tablet PCs, which combine ergonomic advantages with security and longevity.

For more than 50 years, FAWO GmbH from Nieder-Olm has been supplying the vehicle industry with high quality equipment technology for mobile homes, motor homes and other special vehicles. Innovation is a daily challenge for the think tank, the certified company acts as sales partner for many renowned suppliers and producers. In close cooperation with them, customer wishes become new products, designs and solutions.

Individual fixings for TVs and tablets

In the area of mounting technology, the company has been cooperating with the office technology specialists, Novus, since 2008. Based on their respective area of expertise, both partners develop revolutionary mounting solutions for TVs and tablet PCs, which combine ergonomic advantages with security and longevity. Yet flat screens are not just installed in home living rooms. Modern TVs with flat screens are also often used in mobile homes, whereby an efficient use of space is important in this case. This places high requirements on the mounting technology, which must be exceptionally stable, flexible and functional – and attach the device comfortably up next the sky.

Simply heavenly: NOVUS SKY

All these characteristics are united in NOVUS SKY. With the wall fittings of the NOVUS SKY 10N (MKII) series, FAWO presents vehicle manufacturers a high quality solution, which will fulfil every expectation. Both companies worked closely together to optimise the TV mounts and furnish them with versatile functions. A lighter profile design, strengthened joints for more stability, a covered cable routing, as well as a quick release fastener for simple monitor removal are among the highlights of this premium product. NOVUS SKY 10N (MKII) thereby enables a modern, tailored-made solution for use in recreational vehicles.

The series is complimented by a high quality option for tablet PCs: the NOVUS SKY Tab. A variable, spring-supported clamping width allows for the secure mounting of tablet PCs of various manufacturers.

With these innovative systems for modern media usage, FAWO is in touch with the current age. And offers discerning caravanning travellers the most modern technological comfort in the smallest of spaces. Simply heavenly: simply NOVUS SKY.
